

If it ain't broke don't fix it. We don't need big brother sticking his nose in the states rights. Indiana's do not call list was a model for the other states. I get the feeling that big brother is jealous that they didn't come up with the plan first.